

IASC Proposal Form

IASC Working Groups (WGs) encourage and support science-led international programs by offering opportunities for planning and coordination, and by facilitating communication and access to facilities. Crosscutting projects encourage the IASC Working Groups (WGs) to explore activities which straddle disciplinary lines and are of interest to two or more WGs. IASC wishes to promote cross-discipline thematic activities and encourage interaction between the WGs, in particular between natural and social sciences WGs.

Any proposals submitted to IASC should have been discussed with WG leadership and/or membership before submission.

Evaluation Criteria:

- 1) Does the activity have scientific merit? Does it address research priorities identified within the ICARP III process & IASC Working Group Work Plans?
- 2) How many disciplines/WGs are meaningfully involved in the proposed activity? Does it bridge social and natural sciences?
- 3) Does the activity promote interdisciplinary involvement not only in the implementation but also the planning of the activity?
- 4) How does the planned activity address Indigenous engagement and collaboration?
- 5) Each activity shall involve early career scientists. Does the activity intend to promote the involvement of early career scientists not only in the implementation but also the planning of the activity?
- 6) Does the activity have support or endorsement from organizations other than IASC?

All funded activities must follow IASC requirements:

IASC also has developed guidelines for funding attendance in online meetings:

https://iasc.info/images/media/print/logo-forms/Guidelines_-_Funding_attendance_in_online_meetings.pdf

Please note that early career scientists receiving support can only receive support from IASC for four activities in any 5-year period during their eligibility as an early career scientist.
